

BELIEVED MANILA HAS SURRENDERED.

Shafter's Expedition Arrives Off Santiago.

No Exchange of Hobson-Blanco's No Truce—More Morro Shells.

ALL OF TODAY'S NEWS.

MADRID, June 20.—General belief prevails that Manila has surrendered.

HONG KONG, June 20.—Steamer just arrived from Manila says: "The insurgents hold 4000 Spaniards and 1000 native prisoners. The insurgents captured on June 14 town of Dalango, the place next important to Manila in the bay."

NEW YORK, June 20.—It is announced that Shafter's troops are off Santiago and a portion landed. Two troopships are going southeast, off Cape Mais, probably to Porto Rico. Six regiments at Ybor City are ordered to get ready.

KEY WEST, June 20.—11:20 a. m.—Another Government vessel reports that Morro Castle keeps firing heavy shells at the blockading squadron. On Friday a twelve-inch shell exploded dangerously near an American war ship.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Government circles at Madrid believe that General Augusti will ask for foreign warships to land detachments to occupy Manila to protect the city and inhabitants from the insurgents, on the ground that he is no longer able to resist insurgents.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—No doubt is entertained at either the war or navy departments that General Shafter's expedition has arrived safely off Santiago by this time.

It is believed the first of the transports arrived near blockading fleet Saturday night.

KEY WEST, June 20.—It is learned from naval officers here that Blanco notified the American blockading fleet that hereafter he will recognize no flag of truce.

MADRID, June 20.—Newspapers say the cabinet decided yesterday that no peace conditions would be accepted unless Spain was allowed to retain all her colonies.

KEY WEST, June 20.—A vessel that arrived from the blockade this morning reports all quiet. She brought a Cuban officer with dispatches for Palma.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Commander Watson telegraphs Long that Captain General Blanco says that the Spanish government refuses to exchange prisoners. This refers to Lieutenant Hobson and crew of the Merrimack, and is the outcome of Captain Ludlow's mission.

WASHINGTON, June 20, 12:15.—Senator Davis in calling up the Hawaiian resolution said it was the intention to keep it before the Senate all the time until a vote was reached.

12:20.—The Hawaiian resolution was taken up by the Senate and Frye insisted that nothing be yielded to but war measures, and that long sessions be held. Morrell of Vermont addressed the Senate.

MADRID, June 20.—The Herald prints an interview with Almodovar de Rio, Minister Foreign Affairs, in which the minister allowed it to be understood negotiations for peace were proceeding but denies that the powers had intervened.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Four hundred Cuban volunteers who have been camped at West Tampa sailed this morning for Cuba.

LONDON, June 20.—Dispatch from Belgrade says ex-Queen Natalie is organizing corps of nurses to care for both Spanish and American soldiers at the seat of war.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Reports have been received that Havana and Santiago are receiving all the supplies they want via the Isle of Pines, where shoal water makes it impossible for the patrol of ships.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Government has named the ships recently ordered built by Congress as follows: Battleships—No. 10, Maine; No. 11, Missouri; No. 12, Ohio. Monitors—Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida and Wyoming.

Lorin Sunday School Outing.

A Day of Unparalleled Pleasure—The Result of the Races.

On Saturday morning the Sunday school children, parents and teachers of St. Matthew's Episcopal Mission, left Lorin station for Leona Heights, where an enjoyable day was spent. They were met at the junction of Leona and Alameda by their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Randolph of Angel Island.

On arriving at their destination and reviewing the grounds, ample lunches were served, to which every one present did justice.

In the afternoon the program of races, previously arranged, was run off, the three first in each race receiving prizes of autograph albums, neck ribbons, dolls, penknives, pistols, etc. Following is the list of lucky participants:

Boys' race—First, George Grub; second, Wilmott Dow; third, Willis Watkins.

Little Girl's race—First, Elsie Elliott; second, Cora Simonson; third, Jennie Sanberg.

Sack race—First, Walter Longberg; second, George Grub; third, Stewart Magee.

Girls' race—First, Olive Grub; second, Bessie Wilson; third, Addie Jones.

Racing backward—First, Addie Jones; second, Willie Wilkinson; third, Bessie Wilson.

Mixed race—First, May Dow; second, George Sanberg; third, Myrtle Lewis.

Young Ladies' race—First, Miss E. Ratcliffe; second, Miss R. Coxhead; third, Miss Frame.

The greatest interest was centered in the married ladies' race, which resulted as follows: First, Mrs. Coxhead (a doll); second, Mrs. Magee (palque); third, Mrs. R. Spencer (Easter egg).

The event proved to the satisfaction of both young and old that the commingling of the youths with the elders was a beneficial event. The day was spent without an event of any kind to mar the serenity and pleasure, and will long be remembered by the attendants as an ideal one, and one that marks an epoch in the history of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Thomas P. Grogan of Lorin and Mr. Richard Spencer, the lay reader and Sunday school superintendent, for their work.

RESUME OF THE SERMONS YESTERDAY.

Discourse by Dr. Minton Upon Superstition.

Dr. Coyle Gave an Inspired Treatise Upon the Bible, Its Authorship and Purpose.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. C. H. Minton took his text Sunday morning from Luke, 11-14. "And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass when the devil was gone out, the dumb spoke, and the people wondered."

This is one of the strange things in the history of the New Testament. It is weird and uncanny, some say, nothing more than insanity, and if our Lord would let the people think so it would reflect upon Him. He talked about devils coming in and out, and if all of the time He knew no distinct character then He was sanctioning a belief in error.

It is often believed that the souls of evil spirits enter into others, and that the backbone of a wicked man becomes an evil spirit to haunt others. This seems fanatical, but there is no limit to theories among people of the east. Nothing is more broadly believed than that a man's great grandfather may be an elephant or an insect, not even a worm's ever killed. In India I have seen a woman trying to scare a snake from her door. She did not dare to kill, lest it be one of her ancestors. Thirty thousand people die annually from the bite of deadly reptiles in that country. Brahmanism is different from Buddhism, in that Brahmins believe that souls of departed ones enter in stones as well as animals, while Buddhists simply allow their spirits to enter into live things, and they believe that Buddha was in every sphere excepting three; he was never a woman, an insect, or never inhabited the infernal region.

In modern India there is a saying that if a man has been at Mecca once, watch him; if twice, keep away from him; and if he has been there three times don't live in the same block, and utterly avoid him.

It is not so very long ago when it was widely believed that man or woman could be let into a bargain with the devil and so gain the diabolical power over everything for a certain length of time. Science is beginning to feel its existence and the influence of mind upon matter is a science not seen. There are dread possibilities of what may be exercised when a first man can make the second man do what he wills. Why might not the devil mesmerize his victim.

It is because the devil controls so many today that sin is so shameless and wickedness so prevalent. The man of the text had all the natural organs but was dumb. This diabolical demon was no worse than others who fume and fuss with the man of the text. There is a moral ugliness. His dumbness was of the demons, yet the man was dumb. The bargain of Mephistopheles was of Goethe.

The man doubtless though he was dumb and did not know it was the demon. Satan tempted our Lord three times on the mount. He so confuses our thoughts and desires that we think it is us. Is it hard to say how far Satan will go.

The dumb man was responsible for his dumbness because he had placed himself in that position. The law has decided that a man is accountable for a crime committed while intoxicated, because he drank the liquor which made him thus. When guilty men go into partnership they must be careful not to put everything on the silent one.

You may say his silence was no sin. Yes, and no; language is the gift of God and if a man says nothing his heart is as barren as the Nevada desert; sometimes it is a luxury to be quiet and have others do likewise, but two people must know each other very well to trust themselves to be silent.

A full heart must speak. God has given man lungs and lips to use and we have no right to shut them up. Something is wrong if we do not talk when truth is under fire or when the door of temptation stands open and silence gives consent. Then dumbness is crime.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. John Coyle D. D., the pastor, preached in the morning on the subject, "The Bible—How Written? How Preserved?" He said in part: "On this subject I could write a book. The theme is so broad that I should have to keep you here three hours or more to give even a satisfactory outline; but a few points can be given in our limited time."

"The Bible is not, as many presume to claim, a book written by ordinary men, but 'Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.' Its fruits, its influence in the world, prove its divine origin."

"How has it been preserved? This is a matter of supreme importance. First—The Jews were God's custodians of His revealed law. They must preserve it pure. They were intensely jealous in transcribing any document to not omit one jot, the smallest Hebrew written character. They preserved the law of God pure from a selfish motive. It contained the code of their laws, the titles to their lands, the deeds to their property. It was their ritual. They regarded the rolls on which the laws were written with the most sacred reverence. The Jewish scribes would always carefully wash their hands before handling the scrolls. They would never take a roll from the shelf where it was kept without reverently kissing it. No other scroll was ever laid on top of a sacred roll. The original draft of the law was kept in the ark of the covenant, within the Holy of Holies. When the Jews were absent from home in Chaldean bondage, the sacred manuscripts were kept by them and translated into the Chaldean. The Samaritans at home had their own copy. When the Jews returned from captivity the two copies were compared and found to be identical. Another reasonable argument for the exactness of the transcripts of the laws was the rivalry between the two kingdoms of Israel and Judah."

"As to the New Testament, while it is true that we have no manuscript dating prior to the fourth century yet there are more than two hundred thousand fragmentary documents from which the whole New Testament can be reproduced; and since the laws of the people were committed to memory and transmitted by word of mouth with perfect exactness from generation to generation, as is the case with many heathen tribes today, the absence of a written manuscript of the New Testament dating before the fourth century does not in any manner vitiate its claim as the authorized revealed Word of God.

"How ought the Bible to be studied? Many people admire it without knowing anything about it, because it is fashionable to do so. They speak of its literary excellence in a parrot-like manner, but they get no profit from it."

"To be profited by reading it and get true enjoyment therefrom, we should read it at appropriate times. The mind should be in a reverential frame. The heart is fed when it has an eager craving for spiritual food, but this craving is increased by frequent tasting of the food prepared in God's Word."

"The morning paper is to be hastily scanned because it contains the current news of the day. We don't read Puck or Judge in hours of bereavement. They are not appropriate for a season of sorrow. But God's word is a stay and comfort in such an hour."

"Don't read it critically. You can find anything you want. I can prove by such reading that the Bible teaches suicide. Judas went out and hanged himself. In another place I read, 'Go thou and do likewise.'"

"Thus it is easy to pervert the greatest blessing and rob ourselves of joy and comfort here below, and the title to our eternal mansion above."

Governor Budd has been notified by Secretary Alger that California can have twelve new companies of soldiers under the second call. These companies will be 100 strong, and plenty of time will be given to secure them, as the Manila regiments are already in excess of transport facilities, and likely to be for a few weeks.

The Seventh Regiment, California, is greatly disappointed in not getting off with the recent Philippine expedition. It is a large regiment, and will be accompanied by recruits for the First, and on these accounts transportation facilities have not been sufficient, without a division of the regiment, which was not desirable. They live to fight another day.

Some of the Berkeley circles appear to be agitated over the beer situation. A reduction in licenses is under consideration by the Town Trustees, and the consumers are threatened with having to double their drink bills, or reduce the quantity. The government tax is being charged with causing all this ferment. It must be a pretty heavy tax that is going to require this double slide toward the saloon.

At the request of the Secretary of the United States Treasury, Lyman J. Gage, the GAZETTE today gives in detail the method of subscribing for the War Loan bonds. It is desired by the government that all the people may have opportunity to participate in the purchase of these bonds, which are of such denomination as to make them obtainable in small amounts. United States bonds are recognized as the most secure and stable form of obligation that investors can hold. American money shows its faith in American stability when it seeks investment in government bonds and loans.

THE WAR LOAN.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13, 1898.
TO BERKELEY DAILY GAZETTE: The Secretary of the Treasury invites subscription from the people of the United States for $200,000,000 of the 3 per cent loan authorized by the act of Congress to provide ways and means to meet war expenditures. Subscriptions will be received at par for a period of thirty-two days, the subscription being open from this date to 3 p. m. on the 14th day of July, 1898. The bonds will be issued in both coupon and registered form, the coupon bonds in denominations of $20, $100, $500 and $1000, and the registered bonds in denominations of $20, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They will be dated August 1, 1898, and, by their terms, will be redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the United States after ten years from the date of their issue, and due and payable August 1, 1918.

The bonds will bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, payable quarterly; the interest on the coupon bonds will be paid by means of coupons, to be detached from the bonds as the interest becomes due, and the interest on the registered bonds will be paid by checks drawn to the order of the payees, and mailed to their addresses.

The law authorizing this issue of bonds provides that in allotting said bonds the several subscriptions of individuals shall be first accepted, and the subscriptions of the lowest amounts shall be first allotted. In accordance with that provision allotments to all individual subscribers will be made before any bonds will be allotted to other than individuals. All individual subscriptions for $500 or less will be allotted in full as they are received, and such subscriptions must be paid in full at the time the subscription is made. If the total sum subscribed for in amounts of $500 or less, should exceed $200,000,000 the allotments will be according to the priority of the receipt of the subscriptions.

Allotments on subscriptions for over $500 will not be made until after the subscription closes, July 14th, and will then be made inversely according to the size of the subscription, the smallest subscription being first allotted, then the next in size next, and so on, preference being given to individual subscriptions. Persons subscribing for more than $500 must send in cash or certified checks to the amount of 2 per cent of the amount subscribed for, such amount to constitute a partial payment, and to be forfeited to the United States in the event of failure on the subscriber's part to make full payment for his subscription, according to the terms of the circular. Allotments to subscribers for more than $500 will be made as soon as possible after the subscription closes.

In order to avoid a too rapid absorption of funds into the treasury, with a possible consequent evil effect on industry and commerce, any subscriber for more than $500 will be permitted to take his allotment of bonds in installments of 20 per cent, taking the first installment within ten days after the notice of the allotment, and the balance at four equal intervals of forty days each, in four installments each of 20 per cent of the bonds allotted. Delivery of bonds will be made in installments as payment for them is received, and payment in all cases must be made in full as the bonds are taken. The 2 per cent deposit will apply on the final installment. Any subscriber may pay for the whole amount allotted him within ten days from the date of the notice of his allotment. Interest will be adjusted from the time of the actual payment, whether paid in one sum or in installments as permitted. Separate subscriptions from one individual, although made from time to time, will be aggregated and considered as one subscription for this issue of bonds.

The Secretary of the Treasury will receive in payment for the bonds postoffice money orders payable at Washington, D. C., and checks, bank drafts and express money orders collectible in the cities of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco. All money orders and bank drafts must be drawn in favor of the Treasurer of the United States. The money orders and bank checks so received will be forwarded for collection by the Department, and as soon as returns are obtained the subscriber will be credited with the amount of his subscription as of the date of collection. The Secretary will also receive in payment for the bonds certificates of deposit issued by the Assistant Treasurers of the United States in the above-named cities. These certificates of deposit may be obtained from any Assistant Treasurer in exchange for gold coin, gold certificates, standard silver dollars, silver certificates, United States notes, Treasury notes of 1890, and national bank notes, and the subscriber will be credited with the amount of his subscription as of the date of the certificate of deposit. The Secretary will also receive currency sent by registered mail or by express direct to the Treasury Department.

For the mutual convenience of subscribers and the Department, a blank form of letter to accompany remittance has been prepared, and it may be obtained at the offices of national and state banks generally, at the several sub-treasuries of the United States, at any money order post office, and at any express office.

The bonds will be dated August 1, 1898, and they will be forwarded to subscribers at the address designated by them free of expense for transportation as soon after that date as possible. The bonds will be accompanied by a check for the amount of interest due the subscriber at the rate of 3 per cent from the date of his payment to August 1, 1898.

All remittances and other communications relative to this loan should be addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C.

All subscriptions must be received at the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., not later than 3 o'clock p. m., Thursday, July 14, 1898. No subscriptions received after that date and hour will be considered.

"ARIZONA TERRORS."

AN AGGREGATION OF MUJE PACKERS EN ROUTE TO CUBA.

The Government Enlists Their Services For Inland Traffic Work In Cuba. All of Them Are Horn Fighters. The Rough Riders Are Too "Dudified" For Them.

"The 'Real Terrors' of Arizona—Teddy Ain't In It," was the tenor of a placard commenting the aid of one of three tourists sleeping coaches which were attached to the Louisville and Nashville train which left New Orleans at 11:15 o'clock the other forenoon, bound eastward.

The "terrors" were in charge of Mr. D. A. Johnson, acting agent for the quartermaster's department of the United States army. They were 94 in number, and it appears as if they were in the wilds of "Spanglers" for a laugh, a lot of men never met together than these self styled "terrors." Their appearance was, however, a great deal worse than their deeds, for with all their roughness and apparent savagery there was a current of mischief and fun underlying their actions. That they would fight there could not be the least doubt, for each and every one of them had a record for some daring or brave act, and they were all typical frontiersmen such as were the pioneers of civilization in America from the days of the landing of the pilgrims on the shores of the old Bay State down to the present time. These men, who had left their homes in the mountains of Arizona to serve their country as expert packers, had most of them been without the comforts of civilization for so many years that they had forgotten nearly all about it, and living, as they were, in the lands of the murderous Apaches, whose treachery and bloodthirstiness is so well known, they practically carried their lives in their hands almost all the time. They are insured to hardship and danger, and all of them can well be classed as expert with either the rifle, the pistol or (almost equally dangerous) the lasso, for each and every one of them was a master at the cowboy's art of "roping."

They were of all shades of complexion, from the blue eyed, fair haired blond to the dark skinned half breed. There were white men, most of them ranging in age from 45 to 60 years of age, but all tall, straight, stalwart, active men, whose bronzed complexion and lithe, supple steps betrayed a life of activity in the free, open air. Then there were young men, none of them, however, under 25 years, and these were stout, strong and athletic in build, and, to all appearance, giants in strength.

Nearly all of them wore the Mexican sombrero, with the gaudy silver trimmings and leather bands, while cartridge belts strapped around their waists was all that went to make up anything like uniform among these rough men. Although without discipline, yet there was one controlling spirit among them, and his word was as law among these wild men. Some of them had been cowpunchers, others had been traders among the savage tribes in Arizona and Mexico; some were miners, others ranchers, prospectors, mountaineers, but all of them thoroughly understood the art of packing goods upon the "burros," or mules, used as freight transports entirely in the mountainous districts whence they came. It was this very qualification (which all possessed) that caused the government to enlist their services. In Cuba much of the inland traffic, especially in the mountains is done by means of mules, which carry all the freight into the interior. In an attack upon the island of Cuba by the land forces of the United States the services of these men will be indispensable, and it was for this purpose that their services were engaged. Then again every one of these men is a born fighter, and nothing would meet their ideas of fun more than a scrimmage with the Spaniards. One of the men, speaking to a comrade, said recently when the subject of fighting was broached: "You bet the boys are all scrappers. Those Spaniards are easy. They ain't like Apaches, and I guess we can get away with about ten times our number. Why, them greasers would be scared to death to have a dozen Apaches jump up out of the ground as has happened to us this and again."

One of the "Terrors" told the reporter that the men came from various places in Arizona, from the vicinity of Beebe, Tombstone, Tucson and Benson. They had all rendezvoused in Benson, and under the leadership of Mr. Johnson had boarded the train and were on their way to Tampa, whence they expected to go to Cuba, where their services as packers would be required. They were to receive from $40 to $100 per month for their services, according to their experience as packers. Rough as the men appeared to be, he said that they were nearly all of them in good circumstances financially and did not need to go, but they were accustomed to a life of peril and excitement, and the present opportunity to satiate their appetite for such scenes was one not to be allowed to slip by. Some of them, he said, had come down out of the mountains to join Teddy's rough riders, but they found them too "dudified" for them and they refused to enlist. When, however, the call for their services came and they found that they could all go together, they volunteered at once, for they were all congenial and could enjoy themselves together. —New Orleans Picayune.

STUCK TO HER FLAGS.

Experience of an American Woman With an Angry French Crowd.

Mrs. Stanley N. Coulter has been abroad for several months, spending much of her time in Paris. Recently she was joined by her husband, who is instructor in biology at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. Mrs. Stanley, writing to friends at Lafayette, reports that there is a notable decrease of American visitors. This circumstance, coupled with the talk in the French newspapers of a boycott by Americans because of French sympathy for Spain, has aggravated certain classes of the French, who neglect no opportunity to show their disfavor.

Recently Mrs. Coulter left her hotel. She wore in her dress a tiny American flag. The emblem was no sooner noticed than a hoisting, jeering crowd of men and boys followed her. As soon as the reason for their taunts was understood Mrs. Coulter returned to her temporary home not, however, to remove the flag, but to fasten its mate upon the other side of her dress. Venturing forth again, she caused even greater displeasure than before, and the wrath of the French crowd eventually manifested itself in sticks and stones being thrown at her. What seriousness the incident might have assumed is unknown, because a gendarme rescued Mrs. Coulter. —New York Sun.

The Bicycle In Warfare.

A new use for the bicycle in warfare was developed during the recent bombardment of San Juan. An account of the bombardment from within the city says that a volunteer corps of bicyclists greatly aided the Spanish commander by acting as messengers between the forts. —New York Herald.

EXPECT A BIG CUBAN TRADE.

Maine Men Looking Up The Lumber and Fish Prospects When Peace Comes.

Maine lumbermen are already speculating upon the prospects of extended commerce with Cuba as a result of the war. A Bangor firm has already received from a New York house having large interests in the island an inquiry as to the prices at which certain kinds of building materials could be delivered at Havana, where it is proposed to erect two large factories. The tone of the letter indicates that the New York people expect the war to close very soon.

In years past Bangor had a very large trade with Havana, Cienfuegos, Cardenas and Matanzas, but of late the business has gone to the maritime provinces, from which provinces also is now shipped the bulk of the dry and pickled fish used in the West Indies. Maine having lost nearly all of her once fair share of that trade. There is plenty of pine lumber still standing in Maine, and the supply of fish such as is called for in the West Indies is unlimited here. —New York Sun.

Brothers In Arms.

The Drury family of Maine, Ind., have surely shown their loyalty to their country. Martin and Thomas, it has recently been learned, are with Dewey, Martin being a gunner on the Concord and Thomas a gunner on the Petrel. Patrick, another son, is first sergeant in "McKinley's Own" regiment. The other day John, the remaining son, enlisted in the regular army and went to Mobile. The boys are all iron workers by trade. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Relatively Cheap.

A $342,000 cork may seem a little extravagant, but consider the size of the bottle and the value of the contents. —Hartford Courant.

The Giant Despair. One of the most horrible nervous diseases to which women are peculiarly subject is the sense of overwhelming despair which they bring upon the mind. A woman's mental condition is directly and powerfully affected by any ailment of the delicate special organs. —Pierce's medicine not only cures the body with pain and suffering but burdens her with mental anguish which words can hardly describe.

Thousands of women have had a similar experience to that of Mrs. Burath A. Williams, of Westport, Oshkosh Co., Ky., in which the use of Dr. Pierce's wonderful "Favorite Prescription" by imparting mental strength, courage, cheerfulness and capacity to the bodily powers but has also given renewed brightness and buoyancy of spirit.

"I suffered for over a year," says Mrs. Williams, "with indigestion and nervous prostration. I was unable to eat or sleep. I tried several physicians but without success. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pelets.' I commenced taking the medicines last May. Took three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of the 'Pelets,' and am now feeling better than I have for two years. Have a good appetite, sleep well, and do not suffer from indigestion or nervousness. I have gained seven and a half pounds since taking these medicines. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine to several ladies, one of whom is now taking it and is being greatly benefited."

Candies and Nuts Dispatched With Rapidity.

The Dwight way station candy kitchen was disturbed from its customary serenity about 7 p. m. last night by the peculiar machinations of a defective gasoline stove.

The proprietress, Miss Anna Andrews, had adjusted the gasoline stove preparatory to making some article of the confectionary art, and turning her back for a little while in her attempt to collect utensils designed for use the stove was not constantly under her observation. A sudden and loud report made the room reverberate with noise and was suddenly enveloped in a mass of flames, was evidence that a genuine explosion had taken place.

The lady demonstrated her accustomed composure by pushing out doors and calling to her aid the group of young men at the S. P. waiting room and adjoining news stand.

By their assistance in removing the furniture of the kitchen and the pushing aside of ignitable objects in close proximity and applying water and blankets, she succeeded in confining the flames to the rear of the kitchen.

The Alert Fire Company, with no time for ceremony, put in an appearance and extinguished the flames with no damage to the building.

Narrow Escape.

Saturday afternoon Stanford place and Center street was the scene of what seemed for a moment to be a serious accident. Miss Ida Overman and Miss Woods, in company with an Oakland friend, were riding down Shattuck avenue on their wheels, when a rapidly driven buggy coming up Center street collided with them. Save a severe scare, and a general shaking up the party escaped unharmed.
